

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

John (Jack) Jordan is a licensed psychologist in private practice in Pawtucket, RI, where he has specialized in work with survivors of suicide and other traumatic losses for more than 45 years. He is the Clinical Consultant for the Grief Support Services of the Samaritans in Boston, MA, and the Professional Advisor to the Loss and Healing Council of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP). He is Co-Chair of the Survivors of Suicide Loss Task Force of the National Action Alliance for Suicide Prevention. This task force recently released (2015) postvention guidelines for the United States, titled Responding to Grief, Trauma, and Distress After Suicide: U.S. National Guidelines. For more than 45 years, Jack also has provided training nationally and internationally for professional caregivers, and has helped to lead many healing workshops for suicide loss survivors. He has published more than 50 clinical and research articles, chapters and full books in the areas of the practice of grief therapy, bereavement after suicide, support group models, the integration of research and practice in thanatology, and loss in family and larger social systems. He is the co-author of four books: "After Suicide Loss: Coping with Your Grief – 2nd Edition" (2015 – self-published); "Grief After Suicide: Understanding the Consequences and Caring for the Survivors" (Routledge, 2011); "Devastating Losses: How Parents Cope With the Death of a Child to Suicide or Drugs" (Springer, 2012); and "Attachment Informed Grief Therapy: The Clinician's Guide to Foundations and Applications" (Routledge, 2016).

Suicide Bereavement Clinician Training Program with John R. Jordan, Ph.D.

Co-sponsored with the Mourning Hope Grief Center

The suicide of a loved one can have a profound and sometimes devastating impact on those left behind, called suicide loss survivors. Bereavement after suicide may entail high levels of disorientation, guilt, regret, anger, shame, and trauma. Survivors sometimes also find their relationships with other people changed, as they struggle with the social stigma often placed on suicide, and the altered family relationships that have been changed by the feelings of guilt, blame and failure that suicide may engender. Survivors also may be at risk for elevated rates of complicated grief and future suicidality themselves. All of this makes surviving the suicide of a loved one a potentially life-transforming ordeal that requires a level of support that goes beyond traditional grief counseling. Yet very few mental health training programs devote any time to training clinicians about the challenging work of suicide postvention—helping survivors cope with the tragic loss.

This workshop is designed specifically for mental health professionals who provide grief therapy for suicide loss survivors, but also is open to clergy, pastoral counselors, school personnel, and interested others.

It will provide a focused overview of the impact of suicide on survivors, and the clinical and support responses that are needed after a suicide occurs. The workshop will include didactic presentation, group discussion, case examples from the presenter's practice, and video clips from grief therapy sessions.

Southeast Community College Continuing Education is approved as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by Midwest Multistate Division, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.
